Market Updates

Economic Review

The CPI for the month of December'25 eased by 50bps to 5.6%YoY compared to 6.1%YoY increase last month on the back of sluggish growth in Food, Housing and Transport indices. The CPI witnessed a decline of 0.45%MoM compared to 0.4%MoM increase last month. Core inflation (NFNE) in December'25 was 8.1%YoY compared to 10.7%YoY increase in December'24. The 6 months average CPI for FY26 was recorded at 5.15% compared to 7.22%YOY for SPLY.

The SBP, in its MPC meeting held in December'25, decreased its Policy Rate by 50bps to 10.50% in the wake of stable global commodities prices outlook, well managed inflation and prudent monetary supervision. According to the SBP, the decision will support the need for sustainable economic growth. With 4.4% prevailing real interest rate, the market expects further cuts in Policy Rate in the 2nd half of FY26. The market responded accordingly with SBP's rate cut and the benchmark 6-months KIBOR decreased by 51bps from 11.16% in November'25 to 10.65% at the end of the month. Also, yields on short term government bonds declined by 46bps to 76bps in the secondary market.

The trade deficit increased by 28% in December'25 compared to last month due to 13.49%MoM increase in imports while exports witnessed a decline of 4.26%MoM. In the 1st 6 months of FY26, the trade deficit increased by 34.57% to USD19.20 Bn compared to USD14.27 Bn SPLY, on the back of 11.28% increase in imports and 8.7% decline in exports.

Foreign exchange reserves increased by 9.8%MoM to USD 21.01 Billion at the end of December'25, compared to USD 19.14 Billion last month as notified in the SBP data. According to news sources, during the first five months of the FY26, the remittance inflows are USD16.1 Billion, up from USD14.8 Billion in 5MFY25, witnessing a 9.3% increase.

Fixed Income Review

The yield curve shifted downward across all tenors in December compared to November, reflecting the impact of monetary easing and improved inflation expectations. The decline was more pronounced at the shorter end of the curve, indicating lower near-term interest rate expectations, while longer-dated yields also eased but remained relatively elevated. Overall, the curve retained its upward slope, suggesting continued expectations of gradual normalization over the medium to long term.

The SBP conducted two T-bill auctions in December 2025, with the target of PKR 1,600 billion and sold T-bills worth PKR 1,787.9 billion. In the last auction of the month, cutoff yields were 10.49%, 10.49%, 10.48%, and 10.49% for the 1, 3, 6, and 12-month tenors, respectively.

In its monthly PIB auction, the SBP sold PKR 444.97 billion face value PIBs against a target of PKR 400 billion. Cutoff yields stood at 10.78% for 2 year, 10.84% for 3-year, 11.19% for 5-year, 11.67% for 10-year, and 12.00% for 15-year maturities.

Equity Market Review

The Pakistan equity market ended December 2025 on a strong note, concluding an exceptional year for equities. The KSE-100 Index rose 4.4% MoM to close near 175,000 points, taking full-year gains to approximately 51%. Market sentiment was supported by a surprise 50bps policy rate cut by the State Bank of Pakistan, improved foreign exchange reserves following IMF disbursements, and positive developments on the privatization front, particularly the successful bidding process for PIA.

Investor activity remained healthy during the month. While foreign investors continued to book profits with net outflows of around USD 42 million, selling pressure was largely absorbed by local participants, especially individuals and banks. Trading volumes improved sequentially, reflecting sustained retail interest despite some year-end profit-taking by institutions.

Macroeconomic indicators were broadly supportive. Inflation remained contained at around 6%, keeping real interest rates positive even after the policy rate cut to 10.5%. The external account showed improvement, with a current account surplus recorded in November and continued strength in remittances. SBP reserves were further bolstered by IMF inflows and rollover of bilateral deposits, contributing to overall currency stability.

Sector performance was mixed. Technology and communication, transport, engineering, power and select cyclical sectors outperformed on expectations of lower interest rates, policy clarity and company-specific developments. Cement stocks benefited from stable domestic demand and pricing discipline, while some defensive and rate-sensitive sectors lagged due to margin pressures and selective profit-taking.

Overall, the equity market closed 2025 with strong momentum, supported by monetary easing, improving external stability and progress on structural reforms. After a sharp rally during the year, near-term market performance is expected to remain selective and sensitive to global conditions, geopolitical developments and the pace of domestic reforms.
